

Mastering the Monarch: A Hands-On Workshop

About

Join staff from the American Printing House for the Blind (APH), and MDE RBLV for an in-depth, interactive session focused on the Monarch, APH's dynamic multi-line braille and tactile graphics device. This hands-on workshop will introduce participants to the Monarch's key features, from reading and creating multi-line braille content to exploring tactile graphics in educational settings. Attendees will gain practical experience navigating the device, customizing settings, and using compatible software. Whether you're an educator, assistive technology specialist, or braille user, you'll leave confident in harnessing the Monarch to support accessible learning and communication.

Audience

This event is for Michigan school personnel, parents, and college students studying blind/low vision (BLV) professions. Participants must be proficient in Unified English Braille (UEB).
