

ILS Family Night: Let's Get Organized

About

Being organized is a key to success! Join us for this independent living skills (ILS) event to discuss organizational skills such as labeling, marking, grouping, creating zones, and more. The session on February 4 will focus on early childhood and elementary-level skills such as putting toys away, helping with dishes, sorting, using folders, exploring calendars, and marking worksheets and homework papers. The session on February 11 will focus on middle- and high-school skills, such as time management, labels, digital and physical folders, as well as classwork and household materials organization.

Join us for one or both sessions.

Audience

This event is designed for parents/guardians of students who are blind/low vision (BLV). School personnel working with students who are BLV are also welcome to participate. Students who are BLV are encouraged to attend with their parent/guardian.
