

Listening and Spoken Language: Strategies and Practice

Event Description

The listening and spoken language (LSL) approach is a communication option for infants, toddlers, and young children who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing and who have appropriate auditory access to speech. Professionals and families work together implementing specific LSL strategies and practices to facilitate the acquisition and development of language. This training will give attendees the background, instruction, modeling, and practice necessary to implement LSL strategies with fidelity.

Learner Objectives:

1. Understand the model of auditory development
2. Identify at least ten strategies used in development of listening and spoken language skills
3. Roleplay and practice the use and application of selected LSL strategies
