

About

Camp Tuhsmeheeta

Camp Tuhsmeheeta (Camp T) was established in 1974 by Robert H. Thompson, a former superintendent of the Michigan School for the Blind. The camp was designed for students who are Blind/Visually Impaired (BVI). The name includes the four senses of touch (tuh), smell (sme), hearing (he), and taste (ta).

The camp is located on over 300 pristine acres of forest along the Morgan Mills chain of lakes west of Greenville, Michigan. Today, Camp T is an extension of the Michigan Department of Education - Low Incidence Outreach (MDE-LIO).

Camp T provides outdoor education and recreation programs with a focus on students in Michigan who are BVI or who are DHH.

Youth Education Groups

Camp T is also available for Michigan groups with an educational focus for school-age children. Youth education groups reserving camp must provide:

- programming
- adequate staff
- proof of liability insurance
- a licensed lifeguard
- supplies for arts and crafts
- accommodation requests

Accommodations

Lodges

Camp T has four lodges: White Pine, Birch, Maple, and Hickory. White Pine Lodge has a dining area, living room with fireplace, and large-screen TV. Birch and Maple offer communal housing with bunks, and Hickory is a single-family lodge. All of Camp T's lodges are compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act guidelines.

Tenting

Camp T has three tenting platforms near White Pine lodge. They are available for more rustic camping and have nearby restrooms with shower facilities.

Primitive

For the adventurous camper, Camp T offers an old-school experience. Leave behind modern amenities when you stay at one of three primitive campsites.
